Working spots are suitable for teams whose dogs are on all NACSW odors.

ABOUT THE EVENT:

Saturday: Optimizing Search Strategy and Handling: (lecture and working sessions)

Detection work "is" a team effort that involves a dog and handler. Detection work "is not" an activity involving two units that are not in sync. Each has a distinct role in achieving positive outcomes during a search, including the dog searching with clarity and confidence and the handler formulating a search strategy that results in a functioning team. Participants will learn to assess a search area better to develop a plan quickly, ensure proper coverage based on conditions, and better recognize COB in their dog and any unintentional signals the handler communicates that cause unwanted behaviors. Hides will be placed to challenge dogs and handlers based on the level of their training.

Sunday: Odor and the Environment: (lecture and working sessions)

Presentation and discussion on odor and how environmental conditions impact the selection of hide placement during foundational training and the transition into advanced training. A close look at what happens to odor when hides are placed in various interior and exterior spaces and how best to predict possible outcomes in the migration of odor to increase the chances of a greater learning experience for you and your canine partner.

There will be coffee, light breakfast, water & other beverages as well as energizing snacks available throughout the day. Lunch is on your own. We will send some suggestions for nearby places.
